For Staff and Employers

- How do you currently view the relationship between Higher Education and the various different sectors of employment?
- Is the relationship between employers and university staff changing?
- What recommendations or initiatives have you been involved in or otherwise would suggest to promote the path and enrich the opportunities for those moving between university and employment?
- What challenges are likely to remain and where can progress be made?

For Students/graduates

- In your view how successful has bridging the gap between Higher Education and employment been?
- Going forwards, how could the process of transition from university to work be improved or otherwise supported?
- Are there further thoughts you have about the relationship between academic staff, careers and other support staff and employers within Higher Education?
